STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1895.

NO. 60

HUSTONVILLE.

—Christian College has an attendance of 65 pupils at present. This is considered a very promising beginning and President Pinkerton feels that the outlook is encouraging.

—Last week Allen & Lyons bought of Bud Dunn 50 fat hogs at 3¢. They have about 80 first class fat cattle that they are holding for a fancy price.

—When Cole Carpenter's signs, Judge Cannitz's cat and Henry Nall's rheumatism all fall in predicting rain, it behooves us to possess our soul in patience while the dust gets deeper in the roads.

—The rage for raffling is consuming this community. Dame Fortune is showering gold watches around with prodigal liberality and one gentleman now avers that he will raffle off his house and lot.

—Everybody is hereby given notice to "get off daddy's way" when they see little Billy. Wright approaching. It is the finest boy in Lincoln county and Billy is doing as well as could be expected.

—The tobacco crop of this section is out of sight. Nearly all of our growers have had to build additional barns, so far has the yield exceeded expectations, while good judges pronounce the quality all that could be desired.

—James Frye has returned from Cincinnati, where he went to lay in a fresh stock of goods. Miss Mac Logan now has her millinery emporium up stairs over Mr. Frye's store, where she desires her old friends and customers to give her a call.

—The typhoid fever obtaining here this fall seems not to have been of a virulent character. Charley Adams has about recovered; Nell Adams is convalescing, as is also Miss Ora Wright. John Harmon, who is sick with Bright's disease, is very feeble, but thinks with the cool weather he may get better.

—Mr. Charles Wheeler, formerly of Mayslick, is now a full fledged citizen of our town and has opened up a brand new stock of goods. Mr. Wheeler's wife, son and niece, Miss Bessie Worthington, are with him. Mrs. Wheeler expects soon to have an opening of millinery in the room over her husband's store. Mr. Wheeler's family occupy the suite of rooms vacated by D. S. Carpenter, while the latter gentleman and wife board at the Weatherford Hotel.

—Mose Cook left for Nashville last week after quite a visit to relatives and friends. Mose's business success is a source of gratification to his many friends in this community. Misses Bettie and Mac Logan, Miss Belle Givens, Mrs. Isaac Steele, C. T. Griggs and wife, John Ellis, James Goode and many others took in the G. A. R. at Louisville from this place. Miss Emma Wright has returned from a visit to her uncle, Mr. John Cooper, in Louisville. James B. Cook was in on a visit from the mountains, where he has been measuring brandy for Uncle Sam. J. G. Weatherford, of Milldale, was with us a few days this week. Sam Lusk paid a visit home a few days ago. If Sam has any influence with the weather bureau he ought to send his old friends some rain. John Taylor and wife, of Bradfordsville, were here last week visiting her father, G. M. Givens. J. E. Meredith, a Grand Army man, and former citizen of Casey county, is paying old friends and relatives here a pleasant visit. He is now located at Linnville, Iowa, and is very enthusiastic concerning the advantages and prospects of his State. Miss Sarah Phillips is at Danville visiting Mrs. Yeager. Mr. Dick Powell, of Moberly, Mo., is visiting his cousin, Jas. Powell. Miss Simpson, of Lancaster, spent last Sunday with the family of Smith Powell.

MAN UP A TREE.—A bad dog at the home of Mr. John W. Flowers placed a young man from town in an embarrassing predicament Tuesday evening about dark. The dog, lying in the door, discovered the young man when he was within a few steps of him and forthwith began a race to an apple tree near by, the young man reaching a place of safety on a limb of it in time to save most of his clothing, the dog retaining a liberal portion of it in his mouth as proof of his business qualifications. A yell or two brought Mrs. Flowers to the front door, when with trembling voice the young man stated that he came to see her husband on business, but that the dog had made him leave the earth temporarily. She kindly called Mr. Flowers, who chained the canine, and coming down from his lofty perch, the young man transacted his business with Mr. Flowers and departed, swearing vengeance on the big red dog. Jack Rout had a similar experience [with a vicious canine at Mr. M. F. Elkin's some time since, and he is about the only one who is sympathizing with instead of laughing at the hero of this narrative. S.A.T.W.]

—The gun on the back of the postage stamps of the United States is made from alcohol one part, acetic acid one part, dextrine two parts and water five parts.

—The New York Central has broken the record again by running a train 148 miles in 132½ minutes.

The Business Manager Jots Down a Few Items While on His Rounds.

The postponement of circuit court for a week was not generally understood by the Rockcastle people and the average crowd was not on hand Monday. The patent medicine man, strange to say, was not there and the day had not much of the appearance of big court. In fact three courts a year seems to be too much for as good a county as Rockcastle and to a man up a tree it looks like a waste of time.

In the afternoon, that clever young democrat, J. Mort Rothwell, of Lancaster, spoke to a large and enthusiastic audience. His speech took well and he was frequently applauded. Harry Eversole, of London, attempted to answer Mr. Rothwell, but his tiresome tirade on the democratic party in general and Gen. Hardin in particular, proved uninteresting and if his party was not ashamed of Mr. E's efforts it ought to have been.

Mt. Vernon is feeling good just now. Her citizens think they will get the proposed railroad from Rock Castle Springs and they are jubilant over it. Some building is going on, the schools are flourishing and there is evidence of prosperity on all sides. May her fondest hopes be realized and may the quaint little town grow until her corporate limits include Maysburg, Langford, Pine Hill and the other suburban villages.

The young people gave a unique and creditable entertainment Monday night under the management of Mrs. Cleo Brown. The talent of the town took part and it was enjoyable from beginning to end.

From Mt. Vernon I went to the Magic City of Middlesboro. Crops are better there this year than for years, notwithstanding the dry weather and as a consequence the citizens have little or nothing to complain of. The various farmers on Cumberland Avenue feel just a little above those of Chester Avenue, while those of Queensbury Heights are not "in it" at all with them. Some of the finest corn I ever saw is growing on the 50¢ per front foot lots, while watermelons are raised there that would take the blue tie at any country fair.

The Watts pig iron furnace has been running day and night for a week or more and it is thought that it will be kept permanently at work. The gun works will likely start up soon, while the tannery and cast iron works have been going all along. Another little enterprise that Middlesboro is proud of is the Walla Walla Chewing Gum Factory. Messrs. Charlie Wood, James and Jake Robinson and A. McKee Kinnaird are the gentlemen at the head of it and it is proving a success. They have the exclusive right at the Atlanta exposition and while they had to pay $3,000 cash for it, it is thought they will come out ahead and get a splendid advertisement besides.

The Middlesboro Hotel will open again in a few weeks. It has been leased by a Winchester party who claims he will make the best $2 house in the State of it. Middlesboro needs a good hotel. It may interest a few of our readers to know that Alex A. Arthur, who used to be high muck-a-muck at Middlesboro, is still living in elegance and ease. He spends most of his time in New York, while his family resides at Harrogate, Tenn., in a mansion, with a round dozen servants to attend their wants. Mr. Arthur is one of the few people who made money out of the boom that the Magic City had and he is enjoying it to the full extent.

The Lincoln county people who live in Middlesboro are doing as well as could be expected. Mr. T. M. Pennington and family are doing a good business with their grocery; Mr. James B. Robinson, who also owns a grocery store, is making money; Mr. Matt Woodson is a success as chief train dispatcher and gets a fine salary, while W. R. Fretwell is manager of the yards at the Watts Steel Plant and draws high on to $100 per month. It went down to speak detrimentally of Middlesboro in the presence of her citizens. They still hold their town in high regard and were unto the man who pokes fun at it. With all of its shortcomings Middlesboro is not as bad as it might be and really is a pleasant place to live.

After working the Magic City I went to Pineville, thence to Barbourville and thence to Jellico and Williamsburg. All of these towns are growing some and if the world does not come to an end too quickly they may be cities of no little importance. Jellico is about the "wettest" town in the country, there being 14 bar-rooms in her corporate limits. All seem to do a good business, while the majority flourish like a green bay tree. It would make the Lincoln prohibitionists shudder to see the amount of whiskey sold there in a single day.

Politics is getting pretty warm in the Eleventh district and republican rallies will be held in every town I have been in. Col. Bradley will be present at most of them and jingo and republican oratory will flow freely. Charles Finley, of Williamsburg, nominee for secretary of State, spoke at Pineville and Barbourville Tuesday. I did not hear either of his speeches, but ex-Congressman John Henry Wilson told me that it was fortunate for the young republican that no democrat was present to answer his charges against the democratic party. Mr. Wilson, as most of our readers know, is one of the most prominent republicans of the State, but from his conversation I readily concluded that he did not sanction the cause of Mr. Finley and other members of his party.

A few democratic speeches would do lots of good in the portion of the mountains I have been and I sincerely hope Chairman Norman will send out some good men at once. E. C. W.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Price Bros. sold to Rankin Bros., of Wayne county, 10 mules at $20.

—Mrs. S. H. Anderson entertained in honor of some young friends Tuesday evening.

—Miss Bessie Barnside entertained Wednesday evening in honor of her cousin, Miss Pearl Burnside, of Stanford. —There was an unusually large crowd in attendance court day and plenty cattle on the market, bringing 3 to 3½ cents. Cows and calves brought $25.

—Eleven shares of Citizen's National Bank stock belonging to the estate of Willis Adams, dec'd., sold Monday. It was bought in by the bank at $120.

—License was granted to Joe Marshall to wed Miss Jennie Stewart, of Preachersville, as well as to Frank Matlock to marry Miss Lucy Purcell, both in the vicinity of Walker's school house.

—Dr. Vaughan, the presiding elder of the Methodist conference, will hold the first quarterly meeting here at the court house, beginning Saturday evening, and will conduct the services Sunday morning.

—Rev. F. M. Hill, who has had charge of the Methodist church here for the past two years, has been returned by the Methodist conference for another year. The members of his congregation were much pleased when they learned he would again become their pastor.

—Mrs. Dorcas Dabney received quite a painful injury Sunday night. She was at Mrs. Mary Cunningham's and was stepping upon the back porch, when she slipped and fell, bruising herself considerably and cutting a gash above one of her eyes. Fortunately it was nothing more than a bad bruise and Mrs. Dabney is rapidly recovering.

—Judge Thomas, of Leadville, Col., is the guest of friends in this county. Will O. Owsley, who has had such a long spell of illness from the burn he received last Spring, was well enough to return to his work in the revenue office at Richmond this week. Miss Lizzie Smith, of Terre Haute, Ind., is expected to-day to visit her aunt, Mrs. George R. Hardin. Mr. Edgar Borer, of Hannibal, Mo., is the guest of his father's family. Mrs. Elizabeth Smith has returned from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Capt. John Rose, of Louisville. Mrs. W. G. Daniels, of Lexington, is the guest of her parents, Gen. and Mrs. W. J. Landrum. Elder George Gowen visited friends in Stanford this week. Miss Kate Craig, after a pleasant visit to her aunt, Mrs. D. M. Lackey, has returned to Louisville. Mr. A. G. Scott and B. Farris left Monday for their new home at Phoenix, Arizona.

HUBBLE.

—We received a long letter from sister Katie White, who is now in New York attending a missionary school, with the view of crossing the waters soon, and for the pleasure of her many friends here, we will say she is doing well and enjoying life in her efforts for fallen humanity.

—Dr. Lewis reports A. L. Spoonamore and little son some improved in the last few days. Squire Beecher Adams, of Hustonville, is visiting relatives here for a few days. S. E. Owsley left Wednesday night for Arizona, with the view of hunting something better than a Kentucky home. He leaves his family till he goes and looks.

—Death with his scythe came Monday evening and mowed down the youngest and tenderest son of Mr. and Mrs. Col. Underwood. He was sick of diphtheria only a day or so, when the struggle became too great for him to overcome and he quietly and calmly gave up the battle of life and is now singing joyful praises, awaiting the arrival of his devoted father and mother. Archie was a bright little boy and his good mother and father can console themselves in remembering that they raised him in Sunday-school and church and above all with the happy assurance that he is now where there is no sin nor death. Ollie Todd, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Todd, was also called to quit the walks of life and go to the house not made with hands, Sunday evening. He was sick of diphtheria only a short time and of him and his good parents we can say the same encouraging expressions of sympathy as those of the first mentioned. We are glad to note in connection with this that no other cases appear at this time to be unmanageable.

—China has deposited 30,000,000 taels in silver with which to pay Japan's supplementary indemnity.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—The continued drouth has almost caused a water famine.

—Esley Lackey and Tom Madrell were given 10 years for rape.

—The Presbyterian Sunday-school was held at the Institute last Sunday.

—Mr. A. R. Dyche, of the London Echo, and Mr. E. C. Walton, of the I. J., were here during the week.

—Mrs. Lucy McDonald and Mrs. E. Bookout, of Fordham, Mo., who left here 40 years ago, are visiting relatives here.

—Court convened Monday and business.

—Mr. and Mrs. Walt Smith rejoice over their first born, a son, named Fred Sloan, who was born Tuesday, Sept. 24th. News is moving right along under the charge of Judge Morrow and State's Attorney Lester.

—A lady was seen riding a bicycle one day last week. This was a novel sight for the villagers as the wheel has but recently been introduced here.

—There will be interesting exercises held at the public school Friday afternoon. Patriotic songs and speeches will precede the flag raising.

—The following persons will leave for Texas points within next two weeks: Homer and Miss May Miller, W. J. Newcomb and Grove C. Kennedy, Jr.

—About 11 o'clock last Monday night the frame work about Mr. Krieger's lime kiln caught fire and was almost consumed before the watchman awoke.

—Miss McCall, of Missouri, is visiting her uncle, Mr. Jos. McCall. Misses Florell Brown, Berta Martin and Carrie Lair visited friends in town this week. Mr. and Mrs. Stephens were up from Berea this week. Mr. Sidney J. Haley is the guest of Dr. Williams. Mr. Harry Weber is out from Louisville. Prof. J. S. Reppert was in town this week.

—The musical was well attended and all of the participants rendered their parts well. The solos were encored loudly. The duets by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sparks, and Misses Miller and McClure were very beautiful. The recitations were excellent. Those by little Miss Annie Thompson and Master McKenzie Brown showed marked talent among the juveniles. Mrs. E. A. Reppert, Miss Ida Mae Adams, Mrs. J. W. Nesbitt and Mr. R. G. Williams, assisted with recitations.

OF A LOCAL NATURE.

—Judge Zack H. Crutcher died at Pineville.

—Sam Chenault, son of Anderson Chenault, died in Madison, aged 21.

—At Jellico, Otis Jones, baggage-master, while making up a train, slipped and his right foot was cut off.

—Hon. Eli Farmer, who killed Hamp Angel, in Pulaski, was discharged by the examining court on the ground of self defense.

—The Crockett brothers, for the murder of Dan Kidd, formerly of Casey, got a continuance at Columbia. James was held without bail and John's bond fixed at $2,500.

—During the year ended Sep. 15 the real estate transfers in Madison were 110 town lots, aggregating in value $152,089.50; and 227 land transfers aggregating $266,625.80.

—On October 1 the Queen and Crescent will be dismembered, and most of it will pass into the control of the Southern railway. The officials at Cincinnati will only control 338 miles of road, instead 1,142 miles, as at present.

Prof. J. M. Hubbard sends us the following from Gallatin, Tenn: Arthur Hubbard goes to work Oct. 1st for the Hargadine-McKittick Dry Goods Company, of St. Louis, one of the very best and largest in the city. Willie McAnally has had typhoid fever about 40 days in Memphis. He came near dying but is now slowly recovering. Miss Laura, his sister, is now sick and uneasiness exists on account of her serious condition. Howard Female College starts off well with over 60 girls, 10 of whom are boarders, eight seniors and about 20 juniors. The school grades up well. It is bound to grow. Its friends are enthusiastic in its behalf. Physical culture is free and all the girls are drilled like soldiers by Miss Spencer, of Virginia.

It is no longer considered necessary to add the R. S. V. P. (responders s'il vous plait, answer if you please), as it is thoroughly understood that a dinner invitation demands and must receive an immediate answer. It is quite proper to send both invitations and answers by post, and imperative that the reply to a dinner invitation be sent by post following its reception.—Boston Globe.

—It is an interesting fact that while the new Rhode Island State capitol in Providence is to be built of Georgia marble, the Georgia State house is built of Indiana marble. Things away from home are always just a little better, you know.

—A gang of piano swindlers, recently driven out of Illinois, is working in Kentucky. The fellows ask permission to leave an instrument for a few days and take a receipt, which turns up in a short time as a $500 note.

THE procuring of an indictment for criminal libel against the Louisville Commercial by Auditor Norman and the subsequent refusal of that official to let a correspondent of that paper see the minutes of the sinking fund or have a copy of them except for pay, is not calculated to do the democratic party, of which Major Norman is a candidate for re-election, any sort of good in this campaign. The Commercial may have transcended its mission in its strictures on the auditor, but his acts are proper subjects of criticism and it has always been understood that the humblest citizen has a right to look at the public records of its officials, without money and without price. The people love fair play and the very suggestion that there is objection to an examination of the books will lead them to think there is something wrong.

The auditor has been villified in season and out by the Commercial and there may be reasons why he declined to let its correspondent see the records, growing out of his lack of confidence in him and fear that he might destroy them, but certainly he could do them no harm while watched by the office force. We are sure there is nothing wrong in Maj. Norman's office and he must not give semblance to the charge that there is by withholding anything from the public.

KENTON county usually sends with her delegation to State and other conventions a lot of toughs, who are a disgrace to themselves and to democracy. They fight among themselves, are up to all sorts of skin games and go in for what they can make. A lot of these hoodlums who attended the last State convention at Louisville stopped at the Willard Hotel and left a $140 bill unpaid. The management has since used every means except to sue, to get the bill paid, but without avail, those whose names are signed to the register now denying that they were there at all. The hotel has ordered suit to be brought, when the beats will likely be smoked out of the hole they are trying to hide themselves in.

GEN. MAXWELL, 4th assistant postmaster-general, reports that 13,142 democrats have been given post-offices that were held by republicans during the year recently ended, which is not a bad showing, unless you had surmised that the spoils had all been parcelled out before. The report further shows that there are 70,604 post-offices in the United States, an increase of only about 300 during the year, 2,163 having been discontinued in that time, the greatest loss occurring in Kansas, 53; South Carolina 44; and Iowa and West Virginia 38 each. Fifteen other States show a loss of from two to 37 each.

THE rule of ruin tactics of the Tammany Hall democrats prevailed in the New York convention and resulted in the county democracy, who were given only one-fifth representation, withdrawing in a body amid hisses and jeers. Those in the saddle then nominated a State ticket and the seceders say they will do likewise. The platform favors local option, opposes free coinage, declares for sound money, endorses the administration of Mr. Cleveland and opposes any backward step in tariff reform.

THE democrats of Fleming have nominated S. R. Newman, a McCreary man, for the Legislature, but in order to secure harmony he will abide the decision of a primary to be held for the purpose of finding out the choice of the people for U. S. Senator. This is Mr. Rolla Hart's county and it is to be hoped the democrats will severely rebuke his boorishness in refusing to introduce Gov. McCreary to an audience there, on account of his preference for Blackburn, the duty devolving on him because he was chairman of the county committee.

HERE'S another republican who doesn't want a joint debate. Hon. John D. Goodloe challenged Hon. John Bennett to meet him at numerous points in the 29th Senatorial district to discuss the issues of their candidacy to represent the district, but the Hon. John "respectfully declined the invitation," giving pressure of business as the reason. The Pantagraph says that it may appear that Bennett is afraid to meet Goodloe. Oh dear no. It is too plain for a simple appearance. It is a dead open and shut.

ALTHOUGH the Hon. Joe Blackburn is cavorting over the State claiming that he has his race won, the figures do not bear him out in the statement. The Louisville Times publishes a summary from a well posted politician, who has kept tally, which shows that so far McCreary is sure of 49 votes to Blackburn's 36. Gov. McCreary is conducting a dignified canvass and making no preposterous claims, but the indications are that he is getting there in great shape.

A SCIENTIFIC authority says that the female of the common mosquito lays 350 eggs, which hatch in a period of from seven to nine days. The whole set seems to be females and each on double duty since this torrid spell began.

MR. J. M. ATHERTON, who was a member of the committee which framed the platform at the last democratic convention, prints an open letter to Gen. Hardin in the Louisville Post in answer to the general's call for him to stand on the platform, in which he shows how erroneous is his construction of it, and adds, "Your failure to defend your convictions by declining the nomination on a platform you can not conscientiously support, forces me to defend my convictions by declining to vote for you." This sounds well enough in theory, but it won't do in practice. Democrats can not afford to turn over the State to the republicans just because Hardin chooses to dictate instead of being dictated to.

CONGRESSMAN BERRY says he is going to enter the Senatorial derby. Can it be that Old Simon Bolivar had him in his mind's eye when he said that Kentucky had better and more deserving men for the Senate than either McCreary or Blackburn? If he did, God wot the woodcock ought to make his usual remark and fly clear away.

NEWSY NOTES.

—Gov. Brown has named November 8 as Arbor day.

—Fire destroyed a mill and 10,000,000 feet of lumber at Fond du Lac, Wis., entailing a loss of $140,000.

—Fire at Hot Springs destroyed the Pacific Hotel, the Jewish synagogue and half a dozen other buildings.

—Of the 200 consular positions protected by the new civil-service order about 150 are held by republicans.

—Five members of the Buck gang of outlaws have been convicted and sentenced to death at Fort Smith, Ark.

—The oil excitement continues to spread in Eastern Kentucky. A company is now preparing to bore in Clark county.

—President Cleveland has ordered the civil service system extended to consular officers, whose pay does not exceed $2,500 per annum.

—The snowfall in Denver Saturday night measured 11.4 inches. The heaviest previous fall in September was two and one half inches in 1875.

—Montana's anti-gambling law has been declared unconstitutional by Judge Blake, of the district court, and the gambling houses have reopened.

—An American carpenter named James McCormack died in a Guatemala hospital, leaving over a million dollars. A search is being made for his heirs.

—By the building of the dynamite battery at San Francisco harbor, the United States is now able to blow up any hostile fleet that might attempt to enter.

—Mrs. J. L. Isaacs, of Denison, Texas, learning that she was to be tried for lunacy, saturated her clothing with coal oil, applied a match, and was burned to death.

—James Fuller, 53, and a married man, is in jail at Paris, charged with assault on a young married woman. He says he was only trying to kiss her and had no evil intentions.

—A singular feature of the legislative contest in Trigg county is that of the three candidates, two brothers, the oldest and youngest of the family, will be opposing each other.

—The Louisville and Nashville will inaugurate its proposed trans-Atlantic line of steamers on October 23, when the steamer Colligan will clear the port of Pensacola for Liverpool.

—One of the attorneys for Durrant made the sensational charge in court that the pastor of Emanuel Baptist church was the murderer of Blanche Lamont, whose body was found in a church at San Francisco.

—The total number of foreigners landing in this country with a view to becoming American citizens was 212,733 for the year ending August 31, against 166,581 for the corresponding period the year previous.

—Harlan county recently sentenced one murderer to death and has a chance to keep up the good work. Mat Belcher, an ex-convict, brutally shot down and fatally wounded William Jackson, a negro, on the streets of Harlan.

—At the Irish convention at Chicago, ex-Congressman Finerty, who was elected president of the organization, outlined a bold plan for raising a standing army of Irish-Americans, which might at the proper time strike for Ireland's independence.

—A St. Louis paper says that a strike is probable on the Wabash on account of wholesale discharges of employees. The company says the discharges are on account of incompetency, but the men say it is because they belong to the brotherhoods.

—During the G. A. R. parade in Louisville the New Hampshire department carried a big bald head eagle, captured in its state, which it released in front of the review stand. It was caught the other day by a Louisville man sitting on the ground a few miles from the city.

—A regular counterfeiting outfit was found in the Frankfort pen. Frank Williams, a horse thief from Bell county, had them and he was making nickels and quarters by the bushel. His plan was exceedingly simple. His tools consisted of two small blocks with holes bored in them. The holes were partially filled with molten sand. The coin was placed on the sand and pressed to give it the impression, and then babbitt metal mixed with powdered sand was poured in making fairly good imitations.

—The influence of the bicycle is recognized by the New York democratic platform, which demands improved highways in the interest of farmers and bicycle riders.

—At Dubuque, Wednesday, John R. Gentry defeated Joe Patchen in three straight heats, going the last in 2:03, the fastest of the season and the fastest third heat ever paced or trotted.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Prof. J. B. Jones will preach at the Christian church next Sunday.

—Rev. W. E. Arnold will preach at Somerset, his new charge, next Sunday.

—The Methodist Conference for this section will meet next time at Somerset.

—The Northern Methodist Conference is in session at Covington with Bishop Foss presiding.

—The Indiana Methodist Conference by an almost unanimous vote decided to admit women.

—Vandals broke into a Newport church and tore the Bible into pieces and mutilated the organ with hatchets.

—Sam Jones begins another circus at Hopkinsville Oct. 6. The people there do not seem to know that they can get too much of a good thing.

—A student in the Kentucky Bible College has opened a barber shop in his room at the dormitory and shaves his fellow students, charging five cents for a shave and 15 cents for a hair cut.

—Rev. H. G. Henderson, pastor of the Winchester Methodist church, made the best financial report to conference. Every debt was paid in full, the amount raised for the year being $3,754.54.

—The meeting in the new Christian church at Georgetown, conducted by Rev. I. J. Spencer, closed Sunday night with 72 additions to the church, 10 of whom accepted the Gospel invitation at the closing.

—The Diocesan council has voted to divide Kentucky into two dioceses. Bishop Dudley to have charge of the Western and Bishop McCready of the Eastern. The former will have 4,600 communicants and the latter 2,700. This section is in the Eastern diocese.

—Rev. W. E. Grinstead, the new Methodist preacher, comes here from Millersburg and is said to be a man of ability. He has a wife and eight children, two of whom are married, and of the others, one, a young lady, is grown. His first service will be held here Sunday at 11 o'clock.

—A missionary who went to Central Africa to save the souls of the natives found on arrival that there was more money in supplying the munitions of war to the Arabs with which to fight his own race. He prospered lively for a season, but at last caught it in the neck. He was hung recently in the Congo Free States for the crime.

—Conference adjourned Wednesday. The appointments for this, the Danville district, are as follows: W. F. Vaughan, presiding elder; Danville, W. F. Taylor; Harrodsburg, J. R. Deering; Nicholasville, J. E. Wright; Perryville, E. H. Godby; Macksburg, S. W. Peeples; Chaplin, W. T. Ekler; Lawrenceburg, E. A. McIntire; Salt River, R. V. Clark; Salvisa, F. M. Cosby; Wilmore, J. A. Sawyer; Burgin, A. P. Jones; Lancaster and Bryansville, F. M. Hill; Stanford and McKendree, W. S. Grinstead; Richmond, G. W. Young; College Hill, W. F. Wyatt; Somerset, W. E. Arnold; E. and W. Pulaski, S. M. Carrier and J. S. Ragan; Junction City, J. N. Ison; Asbury College, J. W. Hughes. J. S. Sims was sent to Maysville, F. T. McIntire to California, T. J. Godby to Taylorsville. In the Middleboro district H. C. Moore, presiding elder; Middlesboro and Pineville, C. E. Boswell; London, J. R. Peeples; Whitesburg, Charles Clay; Precherville, W. L. Shelby; Jackson, C. H. Greer; East Bernstadt, W. B. Ragan; Irvine, F. B. Jones; Campton, J. L. West; Morehead, James E. Wright; Frenchburg, J. R. Word; West Liberty, J. W. Hunter; Hazard and Hyden, J. L. Stamper; Clay City, D. P. Ware; Barbourville, J. M. Wilson; Pine Hill, G. G. Ragan.

—The tunnel near Pleasant Valley, on the Louisville and Nashville road, caved in. About 40 feet of earth collapsed, completely blocking all trains.

—Clarence Bovill, who choked Nellie Maguire to death near Glasgow, in June 1892, was convicted of murder and his punishment fixed at confinement in the penitentiary for life.

Housewife—You are a tramp, ain't you? Tourist—Can it be possible that this looks like a bicycle countenance?—Detroit Tribune.

Sentiment and Bloomers.

Things all seem to be awry. Babies for their mothers cry. Lovers for their sweethearts sigh. Angerly the fathers fret and fume. Naught is as it used to be. Everywhere we changes see. Woman wants to be more free. All because the blooming bloomers bloom.

Many maidens out at night. Make a most unseemly sight. Give the horses all a fright. As they quickly on the vision loom. Out we wander, bright and gay. In the gladsome light of day. But we turn our heads away. When we see those blooming bloomers bloom.

Out they stretch from side to side. Till it cannot be denied. They appear full four feet wide. Yet are scanty, one must fearfully assume. Sad indeed the beauty's fate. Quick her reign must terminate. Hearts she cannot subjugate. When men see those blooming bloomers bloom.

Cupid's fairly crowded out. Pushed aside beyond a doubt. At his wiles all lovers flout. He knows not where to change his doom. Sentiment is going fast. Grace belongs to times long past. How can love a minute last. When one sees the blooming bloomers bloom?—Chicago Post.

—There were 400 cattle on the Winchester market Monday, with prices a little off owing to the dry weather. Steers of 1,150 lbs brought 4c; 1,000 pounds 3½ to 3½; heifers 2½ to 2½ and mountain sheep 2½ to 3c. A lot of common yearling mountain sheep $1.00. Considerable demand for first class mare mule colts at $30 to $45. Other grades slow at $10 to $25.—Democrat.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Miss JEAN BUCHANAN was on Tuesday's train en route to Louisville.

Mrs. SUSAN HARRIS has returned from a visit to relatives in Garrard.

Dr. J. M. OWENS and wife, of Somerset, are up to see Mr. Sam Owens.

WILLIAM SPARROW, of Louisville, is visiting his sister, Mrs. E. M. Nevius.

Mr. J. L. DECKELMANN has returned from a visit to his folks in Cincinnati.

Mr. W. M. O'BRYAN, of Owensboro, was here with his many friends yesterday.

Misses LILLIE WARNER and Viola Davis, of Garrard, are guests of Mrs. J. W. Perrie.

Miss MAGGIE NOEL and Mr. Marshall Noel, who have been quite ill of fever, are convalescing.

Miss MARY HOLMES Lusk, of Hustonville, was here yesterday. She was accompanied by Mr. F. B. Twidwell.

Mr. JAMES FAYE, the enterprising Hustonville merchant, was here Wednesday and in another column tells our readers something.

MESSRS. KENLEY TRIBBLE and Leslie Bosley, of Lincoln county, were guests at Mr. Robert Foreytke's Sunday.—Harrodsburg Sayings

Miss MATTIE HOPPER will also attend the Peabody Normal Institute at Nashville. She and Miss Essie Burch left for that point Tuesday.

Mr. JOHN B. HIGGINS took his daughter, Miss Julia, to Lexington yesterday and will travel with her while for the benefit of her health.

Mrs. G. W. MILLER of Kansas, Mr. Joe Carson, of Oklahoma and Mrs. M. E. Brooks, of Crab Orchard, arrived yesterday to visit Mrs. J. G. Carpenter.

Mr. S. A. MIDDLETON returned home Wednesday after having organized Maccabees Lodges at Greensburg and Campbellsville, with 38 and 39 members respectively.

Mr. J. L. FROHMAN, of the Globe, was up from Danville on his wheel yesterday and left an order for a full page ad. as soon as we can give it. Read his short notice in this issue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. PAINE went to Mammoth Cave Wednesday to explore that wonderful hole in the ground and tell the Boston people about it on their return home.

COUNT HARRY GIOVANNOLI, of the Advocate, is getting rich and well to do. He is now building a castle in Danville with a view, doubtless, of taking to it a little countess as soon as completed.

The Richmond Pantagraph says that Ugo Buchignani, of Lexington, has been visiting his uncle, Joe Giunchigliani. We suppose their friends save time by designating these gentlemen, "Mr. What you-call-'em."

Mrs. A. S. MILLER and Mrs. W. W. Goltra, of Crawfordsville, Ind., Mrs. Palmer Graham, of Terre Haute, and Mrs. G. C. Givens, of Stanford, will arrive this week to visit relatives in and near the city.—Paris Kentuckian.

Dr. BENDER, the painless dentist, is doing a land office business at the Myers. He will leave Saturday evening.

We are overstocked with harness. Come in and get what you need cheaper than you ever knew it. M. S. & J. W. Baughman.

Mrs. LIZZIE HOCKER has rented her residence, lot and store room to E. L. Rineheart for three years at $19 a month and will likely go to Missouri to live with her sister, Mrs. W. J. Ward.

As predicted the mercury went down some 25° or 30° by Tuesday morning, but the wave was of short duration and it soon got hot again. The rain clouds still pass us by and the earth is parching up. Probable thunderstorms last night, cooler, fair to day was yesterday's guess at the weather.

WHY HE LEFT.—Before leaving for Indiana with his family, Mr. John W. Lawson came in and sang this tale of woe into our ears: The other night Craig Camden shot at my dog in my yard and hit it. Then I shot at Camden and missed him, now he says he is going to shoot at me and not miss. I don't want to be no target so I am going to Indiana. "When are you going?" was asked. "I'm done gone," he replied, "My wife and all the plunder are down at Junction City now." Afterwards Mr. Lawson said he was going to Indiana anyhow, when the office force laughed at his running off.

New percales and prints. Severance & Son.

We guarantee every article we sell. Danks, the Jeweler.

Don't buy old stock. Get new goods for the same money. Danks, the Jeweler.

We have just received 150 ounces of solid silver spoons. Do you want any? Danks, the Jeweler.

Would you have the prettiest and cheapest black dress you ever bought? Come to us. Hughes & Tate.

One sign that we will have Winter is that Severance & Son's pavements is covered with boxes of Winter goods.

Our new Fall stock has arrived and for style, quantity and quality it is unequalled. Danks, the Jeweler.

A COMPLETE line of up-to-date millinery just received and opened. Call and see me over James Frye's store. Mac S. Logan, Hustonville.

WANTED.—My old customers and new ones to know that I am again in Stanford on Lancaster street and would like their patronage. Miss Mary Davis Smith.

The court of claims will meet next Tuesday. County Clerk James F. Cummins says the number of claims larger than usual but they are mostly for small amounts. He hasn't footed up the total yet.

PARDONED.—Ollie Paul, who killed Ike Helm, a negro, at McKinney for which he was sentenced to the penitentiary for eight years, has been pardoned by Gov. Brown, and is now at home. He had served a little over a year.

One of the best lodges of Maccabees in the United States, so far as quality is concerned, will be organized at Mt. Xenia to-morrow (Saturday) night. Mr. Dan Staggs was to have become a member of this lodge and to have taken out a $3,000 life policy in the order.

The torrid Summer weather that has run far into the Fall is proving that the scientists who claim that the earth is steadily growing colder are mistaken. At the rate though it is going it will rapidly dry up, for in the last 18 months the deficiency in the rainfall is 18 inches.

Our business manager writing from Middleboro says the crops are good in the Magic City. This is good news to those who own the lots upon which the crops are grown at a cost of from $200 to $500 a front foot and proves that the Yellow Creek bottom lands are good for something.

It is reported that W. O. Goodloe, Esq. of Danville, is much incensed over the use of his name in the recent fake sent out from McKinney and will likely locate and punish the parties to it. It isn't very pleasant to have it published all over the country that one died with his boots on in a poker game in a distillery meal house.

The several seasons of drouth have shown our farmers that they must make some better and surer way of getting water; consequently a number of deep wells will be bored and wind mills used to pump the water where it will do the most good. Hon. John Sam Owsley is having one put up at Walnut Flat, which will in addition to furnishing a supply for men and beast, force water into his house for bathing and other purposes.

A good many democrats hereabouts consider Gen. Hardin guilty of insubordination, which deserves rebuke if it could be administered to him without injury to the party, but we know of but three democrats in this county who openly assert they will not support him. The rest of us, while displeased with Hardin's erroneous construction of the money plank of the platform, prefer him with one scar to Bradley who is all scars, except in one place—his advocacy of a sound currency.

The case of Marshal Frank Ellis, of Junction City, for the murder of young Murphy was called at Danville Tuesday and on the testimony of the officers that a jury could hardly be obtained in Boyle and from others that justice would hardly be given the accused there a change of venue to this county was granted, it being also taken into consideration that the next Boyle court would be in January, during probably disagreeable weather, and that the witnesses were nearly as close to Stanford as to Danville. The question of bail was not considered and the prisoner will remain in jail.

ALTAMONT AND MANCHESTER.—Messrs. H. C. Thompson, W. A. Pugh and R. O. Ford were here Tuesday to interest Dr. J. B. Owsley and other monied men in the building of the railroad from Altamont to Manchester for which Col. O. Crooke has the franchise, but nothing was accomplished. Some three or four miles of the road have been built and there remains 21 miles to be constructed to reach the capital of Clay. It was stated that the road could be built quite reasonably and two Knoxville contractors were on hand to take it for so much a mile cash and the balance in bonds, but the monied men thought that if there was anything in it, it was useless to give it away to contractors, and that feature was dismissed. The A. & M. may be built some day, we hope it will, but the prospect is a little vague at present.

FARRIS & HARDIN have connected their adjoining store room to their grocery by cutting out a part of the partition and will stock it with first-class queensware.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—It is estimated that 3,000 marriages are daily performed throughout the world and still there are old maids left. —Children continue to rush into trouble. Elmer Harris, aged 19, and Miss Bertha M. Padgett, 18, were married at Eubanks Wednesday.

—Here's a chance for some enterprising but pecunious young man: Hip Amy Lee, the wealthiest Chinaman on the Pacific coast, offers a fortune to any reputable young American who will marry his daughter.

—Has Clarence E. Woods married? If he has, we have failed to note the fact and hereby beg his pardon for an oversight, which though unintentional, is at the same time inexplicable. The Hopkinsville papers in publishing the list of the editors present have it thus: "Clarence E. Woods and wife, Richmond Register." The same papers, however, have us and our better half as present, and as that is false, we shall, until better informed, agree with the old Latin, falsum in uno, falsum in omnibus.

—Invitations have been received by friends here to the marriage of Miss Mary Lee McCaleb Rochester to Mr. Charles Ward Latimer, at the First Christian church, Independence, Mo., Oct. 3. Miss Rochester is a lovely daughter of the late John Rochester, of this county, and a sister of Miss Bettie Rochester, of Stanford. She has made her home with her aunt, Mrs. James R. Gudge, for several years and the invitations are issued in her name and that of her husband. All who know the charming young lady, feel that her betrothed, who is a promising young lawyer, has won a jewel and unite with us wishing her a life of unalloyed happiness with the man of her choice.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

—STAGG.—After an illness of only two weeks, Mr. Daniel B. Staggs, breathed his last at 12:30 Tuesday night. The doctors at first pronounced his disease malarial fever, and up to Saturday there were no serious indications. Then he was taken with severe pains and the doctors say a bowel burst. His decline was rapid after that and he lay for the most part in a stupor. He was a son of the late Daniel and Elizabeth Staggs and was born in Harrodsburg about 40 years ago. During his attendance at College in Danville, he professed religion and joined the Methodist church, of which he was ever afterwards a consistent member. Three weeks ago in conversation with Mr. Joe F. Waters, of this office, on the subject of sanctification, he said: "People say I claim to be sanctified. I don't claim anything, but I know if death should come to me now I am ready to go." Tears were in his eyes as he said it and it made a deep impression on Mr. Waters, who related the circumstance to us. Some 14 years ago, Mr. Staggs married Miss Jessie Piessante and she with three children survive him to suffer his loss, but to be cheered by the assurance that he has exchanged the mortal for immortality and a crown of righteousness for the sorrows and trials of life. The remains were brought to the Methodist church yesterday morning, where his seat was never vacant when he was in health, and after a comforting sermon by Rev. W. E. Arnold, who was assisted in the services by Rev. F. T. McIntire, were followed by a long cortege to Buffalo Cemetery and laid by those of his parents.

—Mr. J. Matt. Martin, a worthy old citizen, died of bladder trouble Tuesday, aged 78. He had suffered from the disease seven years and it had reduced him to a shadow of his former self. His wife was a Miss McMullen and they raised a large family, most of whom survive. Mr. Martin was a member of the Christian church and a good, clever man, who possessed the confidence and esteem of his neighbors. The interment was in the Stephenson burying ground.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—In Chicago last month the sales of sheep amounted to 2,154,488 head.

—At G. W. Rice's sale in Madison, corn brought 90 to $1.25 in the field.

—BULL.—Two year-old Jersey (St. Lambert). A. G. Huffman, Stanford.

—We have 75 good stock hogs for sale. All good stock. Powell & Harper, Hustonville.

—O. S. Smith, of Tennessee, bought 25 mule colts at Lancaster Monday at $15 to $30.

—James Bennett bought the Dr. Scott farm of 226 acres a mile West of Richmond at $60.

—The indebtedness of John I. Moore, the runaway farmer of Bourbon county, has so far reached $61,259.

—Frank P. Kidd's Jills Johnson filly, Fayette Belle, ran second in a race at Oakley at odds of 100 to 1.

—Geo. B. Witt and O. S. Smith, of Tennessee, bought 12 mule colts here at $12.50 to $30, making 38 in all at about the same price.

—W. M. Murphy bought of C. T. Bohon 23 200 pound hogs at 3¢. Mr. Murphy sold a car load of same in Cincinnati this week at 4.20 to 4.55.

—The Georgetown Times has been given a tomato which weighs 4½ pounds. A farm of 100 acres near Great Crossings sold at $70 and another near Centerville of 152 acres at $85.

—The Cincinnati papers say that Carroll Reid, Ed Hopper and other Kentuckians won a small sized mint on Spurlock.

—Major Gault, who lives near Perryville, brought to the Advocate office, an ear of popcorn, many grains of which had actually been popped while the ear was exposed on the stalk.

—The Christian county tobacco crop is nearly housed and is the largest for years, but the crop will hardly be up to the average, as much of it is badly worm eaten and some of it is hail beaten.

—Carroll Reid is in great luck. His great colt, Spurlock, won the Garnet Stake and broke the record for six furlongs at Oakley and Latonia, making it in 1:14. The stake was worth $1,300.

—The canned and corned horse industry is not as new as it is generally believed. For the past three years an establishment for killing and packing horses has been in operation near Hammond, Ind.

—F. K. Tribble sold to I. S. Tevis a bunch of feeding cattle, weight from 900 to 1,000 pounds, at 3¢ for 15 head and 3¢ for the remainder. J. M. Snow bought a car load of butcher stuff in Boyle and Lincoln at from 2¢ to 3¢ and shipped it to Cincinnati.—Advocate.

—The North Middletown Advance is somewhat of a liar itself when it says: "On the farm of John L. Bosley, near town, is a corn field from which the corn has been cut to feed cattle, and on the end of each of the stubs a fully developed ear of corn has grown."

—The highest price for leaf tobacco this year was realized at Louisville Wednesday. One hoghead of fine bright Burley was sold for $30 a hundred and another for $29. A hoghead was sold for $28 there during the boom, and one at Cincinnati went for $28.50.

—Robert J., Joe Patchen, John R. Gentry, are amongst the entries in the great free-for-all-pacing race at Lexington, Wednesday October 9th. So far Robert J. has defeated Joe Patchen and John R. Gentry twice each. Patchen has beaten Robert J. twice and Gentry has beaten Joe Patchen twice, and this race will be the rub.

PUBLIC SALE.

A Good Blue-Grass Farm Near Stanford. Live Stock, Bank Stock, Crop, Farming Implements, &c.

The heirs of John M. and Bettie Reid, deceased, will, on Thursday, Oct. 31st, 1895.

At the mansion house on the premises, about 1½ miles from Stanford, offer at public auction, the Farm of

About 300 Acres of Land,

On which John M. Reid lived at his death. This farm is well improved and is very desirably located and the land is of the best quality. The improvements consist of a large two-story dwelling as good as new and all necessary outbuildings. The farm is watered by five never-failing springs and has a large orchard of well-selected fruits and of desirable variety. The neighborhood is one of the best in the county, with no objectionable surroundings. The convenience to the churches and schools in Stanford make the location very superior. Stanford has several churches, a large female college, a good male academy and four shing public school, a good merchant flouring mill and ice factory.

This farm will first be offered in three lots: One of 50 acres off of the Northeast corner, one of 215 acres, including improvements, and one of about 50 acres South of residence and on the opposite side of the road from the residence. Then the tract will be offered as a whole and the highest and best bid accepted.

Terms reasonable and made known on day of sale.

W. F. McKinney has possession and will take pleasure in showing any one over the farm. For further information address Reid heirs, Stanford, Ky.

At the same time and place I will, as executor of the will of John M. Reid, dec'd, sell at public auction to the highest bidder the personal property of the estate of the decedent consisting of: two year-old cattle, a yearling cattle, 3 milk cows and calves, 15 sheep, a yearling mule, 1 yearling filly, 1 yearling horse colt, 1 year-old filly, 1 year-old saddle horse, 1 8-year-old work horse, 3 brood mares, 1 colt, 1 6-year-old mule, 50 fat hogs, 10 sows and pigs, 50 shoats, 350 bushels of oats, 350 barrels of corn, 5 stacks of hay, 8 shares of stock in First National Bank of Stanford, 15 shares of stock in Marion National Bank, farming implements, household furniture, &c.

Terms of Sale of Personal Property: For all sums of $10 and under, cash; over that amount a credit of four months on note with good security, bearing interest from date and payable in bank.
